EUROPE FOR FESTIVALS
FESTIVALS FOR EUROPE

In Europe the arts are just a festival away EFFE ceremony in Prague

16 June, 2017

On June 15, Linhart Foundation, the EFFE Hub in Czech Republic organized a ceremony for the recipients of the EFFE Label 2017-2018.

Around 60 invitees - representatives of the 29 Czech EFFE certificated festivals and local authorities in cultural sector – gathered together in the Communication Space Školská 28 in Prague for an occasion of the EFFE Labels Summer Reception Ceremony. The Linhart Foundation was honoured by the presence of Ms Petra Smolíková, Deputy Minister for Culture, and Mr Peter Zsapka Head of Communication at European Commission Representation in the Czech Republic, who handed over the certificates and flowers to the labelled festivals. Accompanied by live music by “Los Carlos” jazz band, this event was a pleasant occasion for recognizing the amazing work of the festival organizers creating the Red Carpet Moment for them, followed by informal networking of all attendees.

You can find photos and videos of the event on Linhart Foundation Facebook page.

Festival Forfest Czech Republic is also known as the International Festival of Contemporary Arts with Spiritual Orientation. It takes place every June, with 15 days of concerts, exhibitions, workshops and lectures featuring Czech and international artists, and seeks to connect art with spirituality, notably from a Christian perspective. The festival is a long-term member of the European Conference of Promoters of New Music, and offers a change for young musicians and composers to gain exposure.

Exposition of New Music may also be described as a musicological festival. Its purpose is to extend the understanding of contemporary music, independently and its individual roots and combine them with Czech musical traditions. In the Czech context it represents a unique enterprise in its kind as well as its global context. The ENM was introduced in the 1990s and solidified as an annual event in the 2000s for an attempt to help contemporary music followers to familiarise themselves in an ever-fragmented world and to allow to build their own creative perception.

A brief overview of previous events:

- Musicology: New Scores, graphics, diagrams, and so on, 1999
- Czech Music (Czech music emphasis), 2000
- European Music of the Spring in the New Millennium, 2000
- Music in Rock Department: development of former rock musicians, 2008
- Me and the World: Looking for the common language, 2009
- The Way of Reflection from the indicator of musical means affects the concept of music and time: rock and abstract usage & displays, 2008
- JAZZ... 3 Stars Academics, Autumn 2009
- Between Pop and New Pop or The Spirit Moves Where We Want, 2008
- SOUL/Jazz & ART sound, 2009

Federazione CEMAT (Czech Musical Address) was founded in 1999 by Stanislav Mlýnek, together with the Italian Research and Production Centre working on the application of computer technologies to music. CEMAT works as a leading centre for various independent organisations in the fields of research, creation and teaching of contemporary and digital acoustic music.

In 1999 the Italian Ministry of Culture recognised CEMAT as Institution for National Contemporary Music Promotion. Thanks to this acknowledgement, CEMAT widened its fields of action, now including the promotion of many activities of Italian contemporary music community.

CEMAT is:
 Non-president of C.I.M.E. (Confederazione Internazionale di Musicisti Electroacustici e I.M. Elettronici, Member of ECPNM European Conference of Producers of New Music), Member of ENM (European Network of Association of Member of NEAM AGS).

- CEMAT promotes nationally and internationally new Italian music through:
- Shows - Music events (national and international)
 - ENM (European Network of Association of Member of NEAM AGS)
 - Participation in national and international festivals
 - Trade and competitions
 - Seminars and workshops on scientific musical matters
 - Production of CDs, DVDs and publications
 - Website and data bank
 - Recording archive
 - Sound archive

Federazione CEMAT has the following tasks:

- the production and organisation of conferences, study seminars and workshops on scientific-musical themes
- the support of Italian (European) Music Centers in their negotiations with national institutions
- the promotion of digital acoustic and computer music
- the support of activities of young musicians
- the promotion of Italian New Music abroad with the support of Ministry for Foreign Affairs (ECOMUS Project)
